

Fountain Of Fortune

Legends Of Arahma

Music and lyrics by Joseph Purdue

1

Namira

1

Piano

Spi- rits of Earth and sky, could you teach me to 8

fly. To be one with the birds, free to dis- sap- pear, free to e- volve. As the small rip- ple grows, it has more to op- pose. But i'll stay dig- ni- fied with you as my guide. Carve me a path.

8

15

15

I'm in need of some- thing new. Foun- tain of for- tune, spring for me now. And let me drink the 21

21

I'm in need of some- thing new. Foun- tain of for- tune, spring for me now. And let me drink the

28
 wa- ters, here the glist- ening sound. I put my trust in you.

36
 In the end we are one, all birds and beasts be- neath the sun. And we've all much to give while our spi- rits live. While we be- lieve. If you hold an i- dea, do not live life in fear. Plant the seed, nur- ture it, give it time to grow. You'll see it bloom.

41

47

52
 I'm still search- ing for the seed. Foun- tain of for- tune, flow for me now. Reflect to me the per-son who I'm meant to be. I put my trust in you.

58

64

68

I'll for-ev-er climb, till I hear the bells chime.

73

Foun-tain of 78

for-tune spring for me now. And let me drink the wa-ters, hear the glist-en-ing sound. I put my trust in you. Foun- tain of for- tune, flow for me now. We have but on- ly

85

93
one life so please let it count. Spi- rits sur- roun- ding wit- ness all I leave behind, when I leave this life. So guide me with your gen- tle touch.

93

99

99

106

106